What is paging?

A page is a DAR member between the ages of 18-40. C.A.R. members have also been permitted to page at the discretion of the State Regent. Paging provides an opportunity for different members to work together in a volunteer, service, and support capacity to the society. For our purposes, the state conference and meeting of the districts.

Pages assist other committees responsible for the smooth operation of these events. They assist as hostesses, errand runners, flag bearers, and general “jack of all trades” for all members in attendance. Additionally, pages provide pageantry to the processions.

Service, courtesy and common sense are essentials for excellent paging. Pages are noted for their friendliness, enthusiasm, and an inexhaustible supply of energy. Their duties and responsibilities are many and varied, but they are interesting, rewarding, and FUN!

What Do Pages Wear?

A “white wardrobe!” By wearing white, pages are easily recognisable while also blending into the background. This white wardrobe can include skirts, blouses, sweaters and dresses. This attire will be more formal for evening events.

Pages are allowed and encouraged to wear appropriate white or nude “flats” for most activities. This can include clean white sneakers similar to “Keds.” Pages who are serving on the platform may not wear sneakers. Gloves are also synonymous with paging. During most daytime events pages do not have to wear gloves but one should always have a pair available “just in case.”

The final piece of the wardrobe is a sash. Pages will be provided with a sash or may purchase a reusable sash.

How Do I Become a Page?

If this sounds like something you or someone you know might be interested in contact one of the committee co chairs. They will be happy to answer your questions. A more detailed handbook can also be provided.

When the Call to Conference is released there will be a page registration form. This is separate from the standard registration form and done in its place. It is important to get this form filled out and sent in quickly.

If you think you would like to page, please contact one of committee co chairs in December or early January for planning purposes.

Final Thoughts...

- You do not have to attend the entire conference to page.
- If you are concerned about costs do not let that prevent you from participating. The state society has many generous members who are kind enough to support our pages. Please let us know if cost is a concern.
